

6th International Conference on Radiation Medicine Kicked off in Riyadh

Monday 1441/6/16 - 2020/02/10

Riyadh, February 10, 2020, SPA -- Dr. Majed Al- Fayyadh, Chief Executive Officer of the General Organization at King Faisal Specialist Hospital and Research Centre, inaugurated here today 6th International Conference on Radiation Medicine "ICRM2020" under a title "Clinical Applications and Innovative Approaches" at Al-Faisal University in Riyadh.

The ICRM2020 is organized by King Faisal Specialist Hospital & Research Centre in collaboration with International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA), Al-Faisal University and the Saudi Society for Medical Radiologic Technology (SSMRT).

In his speech during the opening ceremony, Dr. Al-Fayyadh affirmed that the conference aims to bring together renowned clinicians, scientists and other health professionals to share and discuss the latest advances and future innovative approaches in the field of radiation in medicine. He added that the ultimate objective is to create an environment conducive to promoting basic science, applied research as well as clinical applications in radiation medicine.

During the five-day conference, this event is the largest in the Arab region and the Middle East in the field of radiation medicine with participation of 50 international lecturers and more than 60 local speakers. The conference includes more than 69 workshops and 30 courses of continuing education in 13 scientific fields.

RELATED NEWS

More

6th International Conference on Radiation Medicine Kicked off in Riyadh

--SPA

17:28 LOCAL TIME 14:28 GMT

0015

www.spa.gov.sa/2032722

